During sprint 3, our team assigned 45 story points which we completed successfully. As we moved into sprint 4, we decreased our velocity to 38 story points but tried to keep it to the same amount of work. As everyone had assignments from other classes due the first week (similar to sprint 3's schedule.) As everyone was comfortable with the amount of work from sprint 3, we tried to keep it similar. Additionally, we feel that these were the final stories needed to be completed for our product aside from minor adjustments before the final presentation.

All 38 story points assigned were successfully completed by end of sprint.
